Bidar, Oct 4: After facing a series of sex scandals during its recent rule in Karnataka, the BJP in this south Indian state has now landed in a fresh nanga-nach row, with a host of its leaders being caught in camera allegedly watching the performance of a female stripper and forcing them to perform nude-dance in a b-grade party at a guest house.

The shocking news has kicked up a new political storm in Karnataka, with political parties including ruling Congress, attacking the saffronists, who proclaim themselves to be the harbinger of Hindu culture.
